Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDL)

If you have suffered substantial economic injury due to COVID-19 and are one of the following types of businesses, you may be eligible for an SBA Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL).

- Small Business
- Small Agricultural Cooperative
- Most Private Nonprofit Organizations

LOAN AMOUNT AND USE

Substantial economic injury means the business is unable to meet its obligations and to pay its ordinary and necessary operating expenses. EIDLs provide the necessary working capital to help small businesses survive until normal operations resume after a disaster. EIDL may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable and other bills incurred during this public health emergency.

The SBA can provide up to $2 million to help meet financial obligations and operating expenses that could have been met had the disaster not occurred. Your loan amount will be based on your economic injury and your company's financial needs.

ELIGIBILITY AND TERMS

The loan interest rates for small businesses and private nonprofits are 3.75% and 2.75%, respectively, with terms up to 30 years. The repayment term will be determined by your ability to repay the loan.

HOW TO APPLY

STEP 1: Apply online at SBA.gov/Disaster

STEP 2: Provide any additional documentation requested

STEP 3: Receive approval or denial notification from the SBA

For additional information, please contact the SBA disaster assistance customer service center.

Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) Advance

ADVANCE AMOUNT AND USE

Small businesses that apply for EIDL are eligible to be considered for a $10,000 loan advance while waiting for their application to be processed. This advance will provide economic relief to businesses that are currently experiencing a temporary loss of revenue. Funds will be made available within three days of a successful application. This loan advance will not have to be repaid whether you are approved for EIDL or not.

HOW TO BE CONSIDERED

At the end of the EIDL application at SBA.gov/Disaster, you will be asked whether or not you would like to be considered for advance funds. If you would like to be considered, then check that box and provide your bank information for direct deposit. If approved for an advance, funds will be made available within three days of a successful application.

 I would like to be considered for an advance of up to $10,000.

- The loan advance does not need to be repaid whether you are approved for EIDL or not.
- Funds will be made available within three days if approved.

Payroll Protection Program (PPP)

The Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) is a loan designed to provide a direct incentive for small businesses to keep their workers on the payroll. Loans are processed through participating SBA lenders. You should speak to your current lender about applying for PPP or use Lender Match to be connected to an SBA lender.

LOAN AMOUNT AND USE

Loans can be for up to two months of your average monthly payroll costs from the last year plus an additional 25% of that amount. That amount is subject to a $10 million cap. If you are a seasonal or new business, you will use different applicable time periods for your calculation. Payroll costs will be capped at $100,000 annualized for each employee.

SBA will forgive the loan if all employees are kept on the payroll for eight weeks and the money is used for payroll, rent, mortgage interest, or utilities.

ELIGIBILITY AND TERMS

The loan interest rate is 0.5% with a two year term. Payments are deferred for 6 months. No personal collateral or guarantee is required for PPP. The PPP will be available through June 30, 2020.

Small businesses, nonprofits, veterans organizations, Tribal business concerns, sole proprietorships, self-employed individuals, and independent contractors are eligible to apply.

Indiana Unemployment Insurance

Information provided by the Indiana Department of Workforce Development

1. If an employer temporarily lays off employees due to the loss of production, lack of demand for their products/services or out of precaution caused by COVID-19, will the employees be eligible for unemployment insurance benefits?

Indiana unemployment benefits are available to any individual who is unemployed through no fault of his/her own. If an employer must lay off employees due to the loss of production caused by the COVID-19, individuals may be eligible for unemployment benefits if they meet the monetary criteria and the weekly eligibility criteria. Employees must stay in contact with their employer and be available to work when called back.

2. How much is an individual entitled to receive in unemployment benefits?

To determine an individual's weekly payment, divide the total wages earned in the four quarters (12 months) prior to the last quarter the individual worked by 52. Then multiply the sum by 0.47. For example, if the individual earned a total of $30,000 in the four quarters prior to the last quarter worked: $$30,000 \div 52 = $576.92 \times 0.47 = $271$ (weekly benefit amount). The weekly benefit amount should be rounded down to the next whole dollar amount and will not exceed $390.

3. When will an individual receive his/her first unemployment insurance payment?

An individual should receive their first payment within three weeks if there are no issues on the claim for benefits. There is a one week waiting period for payment of unemployment insurance. This means that benefits are not paid for the first week of eligibility. Individuals must still file a voucher for that week.

Business Resiliency

Business resilience is the ability an organization has to quickly adapt to disruptions while maintaining continuous business operations and safeguarding people, assets and overall brand equity. Below are steps that you can take now to safeguard your business.

LOOK AT YOUR FINANCIALS AND CASHFLOW

How long can you sustain in case of a quarantine, lost wages, employee absenteeism (when you are paying for sick leave AND not bringing in revenue)? What do you need to bridge the gap? Plan on a 6–8 month drop in revenues, and map out your cash flow.

CUT YOUR OVERHEAD

Take a look at your spending and cut the things you do not have to spend money on.

COMMUNICATE

Keep staff and customers informed about your operations. Use tools like social media, Google Business, and your website to update your hours, answer questions, and share up-to-date information.

UNDERSTAND YOUR INSURANCE

Business interruption insurance can help cover operating expenses, a move to a temporary location if necessary, payroll, taxes, and loan payments. Check with your insurance provider to understand coverage and what, if any, claims you may have.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- Take a look at your books– map your cash flow and cut overhead.
- Use online tools to communicate changes with your employees and customers.
- Talk to your insurance provider about potential business interruption insurance claims.

Business Resiliency Continued

Business resilience is the ability an organization has to quickly adapt to disruptions while maintaining continuous business operations and safeguarding people, assets and overall brand equity. Below are steps that you can take now to safeguard your business.

LOOK AT YOUR SUPPLY CHAINS

Are your supply chains diversified or are you relying on one source for your products? Supply chain management is essential in any global pandemic. Travel, workforce absenteeism, and financials will impact supply chains across the world. It's important you have multiple providers of a resource that is the core of your business.

DEVELOP AN INCIDENT RESPONSE PLAN

- How will you reach customers in case of closure?
- Can your employees work remotely?
- Can you still operate in case of employee absenteeism?
- Do you have back-up vendors in case of supplier disruption?

CONSIDER FUNDING OPTIONS

Consider applying for the SBA Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EDIL) outlined on page 3–5, or reaching out to your current lender for additional funding and payment deferrals.

ASK FOR HELP

You don't need to do this alone. The Indiana SBDC has business advisors available to assist you with recovery planning, financial projections, and more. Connect with one of our 10 regional offices to meet with an advisor nearest to you.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- Don't be reliant on one supplier. Look for alternatives.
- Plan how your business will survive a potential closure, absent employee, or supplier loss.
- Consider funding options like EIDL to help your business survive.
- Ask for help!
